Interests/Hobbies

I have strong interests in computer technology, science, video gaming, music, animals, physical exercise and self development.

I am adept with IT and can solve most trouble-shooting issues. I have also built my own custom made PC, having personally selected each individual component based on my own research.

I own and care for two German Shepherd dogs. At the age of 19 I began teaching myself to play the guitar.

Achievements

I assisted the contractor in the renovation of my parent's home to help reduce overall costs, which gave me a taste for working in a construction environment. I also regularly take on home DIY projects which have included building an eight-foot-tall garden fence and pouring a twelve foot by six-foot concrete slab.

I helped raise money for the Cystic Fibrosis Association of Ireland along with my friends and family. Together we raised over €30,000. My family participated in walks in both India and Turkey for this very worthy cause.

January 2013 – May 2013 [Part time]
General Operative

Silverstone Designs, Dublin, Ireland

I received part time work for the company Silverstone Designs (since liquidated) which specialised in custom signage and graphics displays. Here I worked as a general operative where my duties consisted of the placement and installation of signage for formal sporting events, (Leinster Heineken Cup matches) and the assurance of visibility of advertisement signage (i.e pitch side photographers) so as not to be obstructed from any angle of vision.

January 2017 – Aug 2018 [Full time]
Head Barista/Assistant manager

Celbridge, Kildare, Ireland

I was the head Barista at Creed coffee roasters and acting manager on shift. Here my duties include a range of clerical, logistical and general operations within the business. In this small establishment only one member of staff worked at a time and thus, refined my abilities to work well under pressure in a high pace environment, under my own initiative. It has given me the opportunity to become adept at all managerial skills involved in running a coffee shop and has allowed me to contribute with my own ideas towards the growth and operations within the business. As well as developing my ability to work alone, working here has vastly improved my communication skills with other staff as I also became responsible for training apprentice baristas and taking on transition year students for work experience.

February 2016 – Sept 2016 [Full time]
Apprentice Barista

Celbridge, Kildare, Ireland

Baobab coffee roasters is a speciality gourmet coffee roaster, where I began my training as a barista and started assisting with small management roles. My responsibilities here included preparation of the shop to open and close, re-stocking and stock takes, hygiene and maintenance of the shop and all equipment, maintaining presentation of the shop, handling of customer orders, handling cash, providing consistent professional service in a friendly manner always. Here I learned how to better work as a team player as well as improving my customer service relations and the importance of my self-presentation in representing the face of a growing business.
